DRAMATIC READINGS FOR THE BENEFIT OF THE WIDOWS HOME.—An entertainment, consisting of readings selected from Hamles, will be given at Melodeon Hall, by James E. Murdoch, next Thursday evening, for the benefit of the Widows' Home. As an elocutionist, Mr. M. has, perhaps, no superior in the country, and his rich, mellow voice, and clear conception of the author's meaning, combined with the poetry and philosophy of this magnificent creation, would of themselves form an entertainment of rare magnetic power, but, coupled with the above object, will doubtless fill the hall to repletion.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSION-PROCERDINGS OF THE COUNTY COMMISSION-HIS.—At the regular daily session of the County Commissioners, held yesterday morn-ing, orders were passed amounting in the ag-gregate to $280.80, of which $184.05 were paid for labor on the new jail, and $75 to G. Lackey, for rent of the Lick Bun Lu-natic Asylum for one month, and $20 to G. A. Menzell & Co. for lithographs of the new jail. Contracts were made with A. Handlin, N. Flannigan, and W. TROTTING ARRAGGMENTS AT THE PARK. We learn that the trotting in this city, during the coming season, will be of a spirited kind, and that a vast improvement will be seen in the incidental arrangements. Weekly purses will be offered instead of a regular spring meeting. Several matches are already on the topis, and one has been finally settled between Mr. Fisher's "Primes" and Mr. Lewis's "lim Aleck "both readsters for $250 a side: "Jim Aleck," both roadsters, for $250 a side; the former to be handled by Colonel Daniols, and the latter by Mr. George Creain. MAN SEVERELY INJURED BY THE FALL OF A SCAPPOLD.—A brick-layer named Joseph Thompson, while at work upon a building on Thompson, while at work upon a building on Elm-street, near Fifteenth, yesterday about noon, was precipitated from a scaffold to the ground, a distance of lifteen feet, and severely injured. Some of the props gave way in consequence of the weight placed upon them, and the scaffold fell; carrying with it a large quantity of brick. Thompson was the only individual on the scaffold at the time of the accident, and had his left leg and several of his ribs broken, beside receiving several serious bruises on the head. He was immediately removed to his residence, which is located in the neighborhood where the occurrence took place, and medical attendance called, through the aid of which he is reported to be in a fair way to recover.

Repeat of the Committee on Statistics—Cincinnati and her Manufacturies.

The attendance at the regular diurnal meeting of the Mechanies and Manufacturiers Exchange yesterday morning was very large, and the proceedings more than ordinarily interesting. A short time ago, A. B. Latta, C. C. Whitson, John R. Green, George W. Runyan, Henry W. Stephenson and Leonard Swartz, were appointed by the Board a Committee on Statistics, for the purpose of compiling an account of the number of manufactories in the city, the number of persons employed, and the amount of money invested in this matter. Yesterday Mr. Latta, as Chairman of the Committee, presented the following report, which, after some discussion, was laid upon the table:

"The Committee to whou you have referred the sibject of collecting the statistics of the manufacturing interests of Cincinnati, (after a through canvassing by a competent man,) would beg leave to make the following report, to which is appended a statistical total, showing the number of proprietors engaged in the various kinds of manufacturing together with the number of men, women, girls and boys employed. We now ask your attention to the various peculiarities which these facts set forth, and we do not wish to be understood to depreciate any business, or to misrepresent any department, our earnest aim and desire being to show by these statistics that, although Cincinnati claims to be a great city for manufacturing, we are deficient in many things, nevertheless, we boast of two hundred and fifty thousand population.

After a careful examination your Com-

After a careful examination your Com-mittee are satisfied that the manufacturing interest of Cincinnati is at least seventy-five millions of dollars per annum. Any one can see by this table that there is room here for a large business at many things that are not made here at all. There could be employment millions of dollars per annum. Any one can see by this table that there is room here for a large business at many things that are not made here at all. There could be employment for every man, woman and child that can labor, if we will only turn our attention to manufacturing what we are now buying from others. There is no point in the country that offers more inducements for industry than Cincinnati. We have a healthy climate, fuel cheap and in abundance, and all manner of conveyances to all parts of the country lumber, brick, stone, iron all around us, and bread, and meat, and drink as cheap as any other city to be found on the continent. Our schools will compare favorably with any in the country, Massachusetts not excepted. There is probably no sort of site for any kind of business that could not be found in or near Cincinnati. We have as good style of buildings as can be found in any other city. We have a choice number of fine rural residences, with some of the finest scenery that can be found any where. We have a good supply of soft water for all practical purposes. The springs and wells are lime-water. The city is furnished with a good water-works, worked by steam, raising the water from the Ohio River to an elevation of one hundred and saventy-five feet to a reservoir, it is then distributed through pipes to the various parts of the city.

An item of importance is the amount of tax to be borne, which is $134 per hundred, including every thing. Water here, unfortunately, is about three times what is charged in most other places, for manufacturing purposes. Gas is $2 50 per thousand.

The greatest amount of fael is bituminous coal; this is used for melting iron by making coke of it. We have Cannel coal also, but no anthractic nearer than the dividing line of the Alleghanies. All our supply of coal, at present, comes from above, on the Ohio River, the supply is now inexhaustible. The prices here, in many things, are too high. Real estate is too high for the healthy growth of a city, as we think, although we

SUPERIOR COURT.

PROCEEDINGS IN HARVAS CORPUS.—In the matter of Eva Bell Whitten alias Little Ella Burns. On application to Judge Storer, a writ of habeas corpus was issued—the petitioner, Francis Whitten, alleging that Eva Bell Whitten, six years of age, was his daughter, and that she was illegally restrained of her liberty by Miss Martha Pollock, otherwise Burns. Little Ella Burns is known for her talented readings and recitations in public.

public. public.

It appears that, when two years of age, she was indentured to Miss Pollock, the apprenticeship to expire in 1871.

The petitioner alleges that there has been an infraction of the covenants of the indentions.

The writ was made returnable in room No. 1, before Judge Hoadly, who, on the case being brought to his attention, declined to hear it, alleging that in his opinion the Su-perior Court has not jurisdiction to try cases upon halless cornus. pon habeas corpus.

PROBATE COURT.

EMANCIPATION.— Seven negroes, manumitted by the will of John Evans, of Williamson County, Tenn., had a record of their emancipation placed on the files of this Court. The slaves consisted of a black woman named Betty Evans, and her four children, mulatoes, between the ages of twenty-four and sixteen years, and two grand-children.

Jaish Church Missions.—A meeting, quite largely attended, in aid of the Irish Church Missions, was held last night at St. John's Church, on the corner of Seventh and Plum. It was intensely uninteresting, notwithstanding the solicitude felt for the Reform movement in Ireland, and we fear the method adopted by the lecturer of last evening will not further his cause. The address was wholly devoid of any agreeable feature, and was made up of improbable stories in regard to the superstitions of the Irish peasantry, and arguments against the tyrrany of the Catholic religion. It is a great pity that these missions are compelled to bear the weight of such lectures as the one delivered last evening, by Rev. George A. Heathor, of Ardraham, County Galway, and we feel convinced a few more of the same sort will effectually drive out the sympathy already felt with the drive out the sympathy already felt with the

O. Buddington, Master), to Northumberland Inlet, and, whenever desired, we will give the same free passage home in any of our ships."

By this arrangement, which has, of course, been accepted, shout ten thousand dollars will be saved to the enterprise, and the kindness and liberality of the above-named firm will doubtless long be remembered with gratitude.

Wood's Theaver.—The audience last night at this establishment was quite large, but the performance of Kieg Leer, as a whole, was the most tame and spirities we ever wifnessed of this magnificent creation. The part of the foolish old monsreh was admirably rendered by Edwin Booth, and deservedly applicated. The carse was delivered with a force and power we have seldom seen equaled, and when the actor cried out, "Ay, every inch a King," the audience was starfled, and believed the illusion a reality. His reading of the part seems to us, in some phoses, faulty, but in others beautiful, while fits general especialty but in others beautiful, while fits general especialty of the character is just, and his ability to portray it complete.

The plan adopted by many nurserymen is to cut the tree an inch or half an inch above the bud, and after the latter has begun to grow, to trim the true down to the point of connection with a sharp knife. As the young shoot is exceedingly tender, it is in great danger of being injured by this operation. The necessity for this laborious and objectionable method results from the danger of the buds being killed by the drying of the trunk down from the place at which it is cut. We have practiced for several years, and on many thousands of trees, a plan which saves entirely the second trimming, and which has been fully successful. We trim the tree down long to the trunk down from the place at which it is cut. This preparation may also be used with ad-vantage for coating the wounds made in pruning choice trees.

If you can count from thirty to thirty-three of the spirals or folds in the space of an inch, it equals in quality the finest electoral of Saxony wool grown.

Of course when the number of spirals to the inch diminishes, the quality of the wool becomes relatively inferior.

Many tests have been tried but this is considered the simplest and the best.

we had in our material progress the bank tariff, and last but not least, the all absorbing and mischievous question of slavery. Soon all became secular in the latter, wide scope had been given, and the most selfish passions prevailed.

He proceeded to show that there was no irrepressible conflict between labor and capital. There was no capital State without its being a labor State. He deprecated the means by which the Republican party rode into power, and denied that the negro had ever advanced in intelligence for centuries. The "irrepressible conflict" was a Northern abstraction, used as a lever by sectional men for scattering functicism and riding into political power. It was due to the South that the North should let slavery alone. He did not believe in the sincercity of the Republicans who declared they had no intention to interfere with slavery in the States. It was incompatible in a sectional party. If the Union is to be preserved, the irrepressible conflict must be abandoned.
